Town studies land purchase

Property at reasonable rates

The Town of Elk Point studied the purchase of the property in both their residential and industrial land banks from Alberta Mortgage and Housing Corporation at a special meeting on November 19, with planners Gordon Hannan and John White of Alberta Municipal Affairs on hand to offer advice.

The property is available to the Town at a very reasonable price if a decision to purchase is made by December 31 of this year, after which the cost would revert to its original level, which far exceeds the present market value. The Town would then have no choice but to try to sell at the higher price, because any land left unsold when the land banking agreements run out in November 1994 and April 1997, would have to be purchased by the Town at the higher price, which Mayor Bruce Kleeberger sees as "the worst possible scenario."

The Town had endeavored to see if a market were readily available for the property by advertising across western Canada during the past month, but found limited interest in immediate purchase, and no concrete offers.

While the Town has no real urge to enter the field of land sales, this would allow them to offer land at a fair market value, and make development affordable to businesses wishing to locate in Elk Point or to expand a present business. Council's reaction to the question of whether to purchase the land was almost totally in favor. Deputy Mayor Adele Mandryk felt the purchase was a positive move, which would give the Town "control of how much we develop economically." Veteran councillor Morris Cooper had some misgivings, but said that the Town "would never be able to pay the full price" when the Land Banking Agreement term expires in 1994. Councillor Louis Verhagen said the Town "can't go wrong," at the price named by AMHC, and noted that the purchase would actually improve the Town's borrowing power for other projects by becoming a capital asset. Administrator Pat Vincent saw purchasing the land as being "done in the community's interest."

Gordon Hannan of Alberta Municipal Affairs said that purchasing the land would "show that Elk Point has the honor and guts to do what they said they would."

Council unanimously endorsed a motion to advise the Minister of Municipal Affairs before the deadline of December 31, that the Town of Elk Point will purchase the AMHC land. The matter will now go to the Finance Committee for a review of the financial arrangements for the purchase. Council also discussed the matter of financing, ruling out long term borrowing and reaching a general consensus that the payout period for any borrowing should be as short as possible to decrease interest costs.

Come curling for some family fun

Elk Point Curling Club is getting their 1990-91 season underway this week, with Mixed League curling starting tonight, and both Men's and Ladies' Leagues starting tomorrow evening. There is still room for more teams, so if you want to curl, call Dave Yake at 724-4200 TODAY.

Something new in Elk Point curling circles is starting this Friday evening, November 30 at 7:30 p.m. For just $2 per person or $5 per family, you can come and take part in Family Fun Curling. Anyone big enough to push a rock down the ice is welcome to come and give it a whirl. The Club hopes to find enough enthusiastic families to keep the rink buzzing every Friday night from now until Bonspiel time in the spring. Why not bring your family down and see what's happening?

Dust Off Those Brooms, Folks!

Curling season starts tonight in Elk Point, and excitement is running so high that Leonard Gadowski and Tom Hunter even spent most of Grey Cup Sunday down at the rink getting things ready. Here, Gadowski is marking the position of the circles ready to put down the brightly colored plastic markings. See you all at the rink!

Drobot supports changes Boundaries Commission "doing a good job"

Jonathan Midgley
Staff Writer

Alberta's electoral boundaries Commission has been doing a good job, according to local MLA John Drobot.

The commission has recommended the province maintain higher populations in city ridings and lower populations in rural ridings.

"I don't think it's a matter of giving more weight to the city. It's more about making it an equal situation," he said.

Drobot argued that in his rural constituency, there are a greater number of municipalities to represent than there are in city ridings.

"Here I have four counties, two towns, several villages, and four band councils," he said.

Opposition parties, particularly the NDP, are angry with the committee's proposal because it devalues votes in Calgary and Edmonton where they have their greatest support.

At present, 51 per cent of Alberta's residents live in Edmonton or Calgary and they have 43 per cent of the seats in the legislature.

With changes recommended by the electoral boundaries commission, Edmonton would remain with 17 seats and Calgary would gain one and have 19. Of Edmonton's 17 ridings, only two elected PC candidates last election.

According to the commission's report, up to 60,000 Edmontonians could find themselves voting in rural ridings next election.

Drobot also said recent remarks from the PC byelection candidate in Edmonton Strathcona were not destructive to the Conservative party.

Eric Young won the Conservative party nomination last Wednesday. In his acceptance speech he said he would lobby for the right to strike and against building facilities which are expensive to maintain - apparently a criticism of the government's handling of the social worker's strike, and the building of expensive rural hospitals.

"I think we all have specific concerns," said Drobot.

"It's something to be debated in caucus. Certainly the candidate has his views. I've never had a problem stating my views - that's the way it works in caucus: you win some you lose some."

Traffic program for the holiday season announced

To ensure the safe movement of traffic throughout our area during the upcoming holiday season, the Elk Point RCMP Detachment, in conjunction with the St. Paul Subdivision Highway Patrol, will be conducting a major traffic program.

Sgt. Barry Kutryk of the Elk Point RCMP says this will include an increased number of Police Check Stops and a higher concentration of traffic law enforcement. Motorists are asked to use caution when approaching Police Check Stops.

REMEMBER: Drive Defensively. Don't drink and drive. Buckle up, and have a safe and enjoyable holiday season.

Abuse of the elderly

Steven Montgomery

CSC Director

Any elderly person may become the victim of elder abuse. Males and females of any income level, any cultural or ethnic group, persons in good health or persons incapacitated in some way may be abused by someone close to them.

Elder abuse is any deliberate action or lack of action which causes harm to an elderly person. As with other forms of abuse, it can take many forms: physical, sexual, psychological and financial.

Physical Abuse includes any kind of physical assault, such as slapping, pushing or injuring with an object or weapon. It also includes deliberate exposure to severe weather, inappropriate use of medication and unnecessary physical restraint. Sexual abuse includes any forced sexual activity. Psychological abuse includes humiliation, intimidation, threats and inappropriate control of activities. Removal of decision making power when the elderly person is still competent to make his or her own decisions is also considered to be psychological abuse. Financial abuse includes the misuse of the elderly person's funds or property through fraud, trickery or force.

Elderly people who are being abused find it very difficult to tell anyone. They are usually ashamed and sometimes afraid. If at all possible, though, they should tell someone they trust. NO ONE

SHOULD HAVE TO LIVE WITH ABUSE.

In some cases it may be impossible for the abused person to tell anyone, due to isolation, incapacitation or fear. In such cases, friends, relatives or care giving professionals need to be aware of the possibility of abuse. If abuse is suspected, further investigation should be conducted by appropriate persons, such as doctors, social workers or community health or home care nurses. If the abused person is in imminent danger, the police should be called. Assault is as much a crime within families as it is on the street.

Red Cross Zone meeting

The Elk Point Regional (Zone) Meeting for Red Cross will be held Tuesday, November 27 in the Home Ec room at F. G. Miller High School. Meeting commences at 7:00 p.m. with Chairperson Margaret Modin officiating. Bring your friends.

1990 Santas Anonymous set to go

Lee Johnston

Lioness Club

Elk Point Lioness Club is kicking off the 1990 Santas Anonymous Campaign. In the past, generous donations from both individuals and local clubs has enabled the Lioness Club to coordinate gift and food hampers for Christmas to those families less fortunate. This year's campaign is off to a good start with cash donations from the Lions and Elks to date. Many more dollars are still required to allow the club to buy food items required for the hampers, as well as gifts if donations of toys fall short.

If you or someone you know is in need of this confidential service, please contact one of the following: Steven Montgomery (Community Services) at 724-3800, or Pastor Jim McLellan at 724-4194. Deadline for application is December 15, 1990.

The brightly decorated Santas Anonymous boxes are located around town at local merchants, the high school, library and post office. Any donation of new toys and / or food items will be gladly accepted. A donation box will also be at the annual Santa Claus Breakfast that will be held December 15, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the United Church. Cash donations may be made at the local banks or cheques may be mailed to: Santas Anonymous, c/o Elk Point Lioness Club, Box 432, Elk Point, AB, T0A 1A0.

Thank you for giving in this season of sharing.

Bazaar well attended

Around 130 people turned out to the Elk Point United Church's annual pre-Christmas Tea, Bake Sale and Bazaar on Saturday, November 24, to purchase goodies and crafts, and to enjoy lunch and a chat with friends.

The event netted close to $ 800, with a good portion of that coming from the quickly-emptied bake

A very attractive Cabbage Patch crib quilt or wall hanging created by Edith Mitchell was drawn for, with the winner being Brandon Holthe, grandson of Sid and Muriel Holthe. Brett Flanders came the closest at guessing the number of beads in a jar, with Frank Mayner the second closest to the total of 647.

Dr. Pelland opening his practice December 3

Elk Point and District is now being served by five physicians

Dr. Barrie Pelland's arrival in Elk Point brings the number of resident physicians to three, with two additional physicians also holding office hours here at the present time.

Dr. Pelland joins Dr. Drew Ramful in the Elk Point Medical Clinic just west of Elk Point Municipal Hospital, the former offices of Dr. Frank Estey who left Elk Point in August. Dr. Keith McNeilly, who served the Elk Point population alone for some time after Dr. Estey's departure, is currently on vacation, with Dr. Kennair taking over his practice while he is away. Dr. K. C. Miller, who had a practice in Elk Point for many years before moving to Marwayne, has also opened an office here in recent weeks.

Dr. Pelland and his wife Mariette are moving here from Port Alberni, B. C., where Dr. Pelland has been doing a locum. He formerly practiced in Mayerthorpe, Alberta.

A warm welcome to the Pellands.

In Our View

Be careful out there

Yes, we know that NEXT week is Safe Driving Week. But with the streets, highways and roads in their present near-skating rink state, it might be wise to get in practice at driving under less than pleasant conditions.

Last week's double dose of heavy snowfalls gave all of us a little jolt, especially if we had to drive any distance through the deepening drifts. The Highways Department crews were doing their utmost from 6 a.m. on, but it takes a number of trips to clean the whole width of a highway and a lot of sanding to get rid of all the slippery patches. Therefore, we had to do our best and take some extra time to get where we were going.

One thing we did notice: the new and improved Highway 41 sure gives a lot more room to manoeuvre on in storm conditions than its skinny predecessor did. Our prayers of thanks went not only upward, but to Transportation Minister Al "Boomer" Adair for getting this road improved before winter. Those of us who saw Boomer in person at the NADC Conference made sure he knew of Elk Point's gratitude for the improvements.

At the time of writing, temperatures are edging upwards. That means things could get slipperier yet--so take it EASY--it might be one of us you run into!

What's news at the library?

After the Elk Point Library inquired, the Alberta Council On Aging has agreed to provide a senior consultant to present a pre-retirement session in the library. If there is enough interest shown this session will be held sometime in the New Year. If you would be interested in taking part in a pre-retirement session, please phone the library and register your interest.

The Elk Point Public Library Board would like to welcome Pat Vincent and Denise Amyotte to the board. Unfortunately, with the transfer of Bill and Irene O'Callaghan to Calgary we have lost a valuable board member. Thank you, Irene, for your work on the board this past year. If you are a resident of Elk Point and would like to take an active library role by helping on this board, please phone the library at 724-3737 and we will tell you how to apply.

NEW BOOKS:

Care of Game Meat and Trophies by Charles Elliot--This book shows you how to get top grade meat and trophies from game and fish. It covers the range of skills from estimating the qualities of live animals to cooking meat and preparing trophies for the taxidermist. Included are step-by-step techniques for field dressing, caping and skinning as well as for home tanning and butchering.

Hunting Upland Birds by Charles F. Waterman--Bobwhite, Gambel's quail, scale quail, ruffed grouse and prairie chicken. Are you after one of these species? Hundreds of practical tips on all phases of upland hunting.

Dress 'Em Out by Captain James A. Smith--the complete how-to guide, from field dressing, transporting and processing big game, upland birds and waterfowl. Hunting and survival tips plus simple, sumptuous recipes and much more.

Archer's Digest by Cheri Elliott--How to choose and how to use the latest in tournament, field and bowhunting equipment and accessories in the techniques of archery.

Guns And How They Work by Ian V. Hogg--This book provides the history and a guide to hand guns from muzzle loaders to automatics and how their mechanism operates.

The library has the new 1991 Consumer Reports Buying Guide Issue.

The Complete Book Of Sewing Short Cuts by Claire B. Schaeffer--Some of the great short cuts in this book are super-fast hassle-free seams with all the advantage of French seams, but not the effort; quick and easy ways of reducing fullness, marking a hem or making a rolled one, tips on handling tricky fabrics, finishing touches and much more.

Wild Ocean, Wild Sky

Near Port Hardy, on the north end of Vancouver Island, we stopped to watch the breakers crash in on a stormy October afternoon during my recent visit to the West Coast. The scene was wild but exhilarating.

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

Guy Carlson is my sister Virginia's son, and it was his wedding I winged my way westward to attend. I was not the only family member zooming in to the little seaside town of Sointula. (I WAS the only one from Elk Point.) Others arrived from Port Hardy (mostly Eric's family), from Vancouver, Cumberland, and other coastal regions.

It's always good to see 'the folks' and I was especially glad to see Kathy (or Katherine, as she prefers), my sister Grace's daughter, who spent a year with us, way back in 1968-69, taking her Grade 12 in Elk Point. Katherine (McNeill) works for an importing firm, on the Vancouver airport grounds, happy and well.

Virginia's only daughter, Linnea Siebert, is a hair stylist, just now caring for her new and only daughter--hence (ha, ha) not working. She undertook to come over to Sointula for a couple of days, where she proceeded to cut, curl, shape and design utterly elegant hairdos for any family member who would sit still long enough for her to get her comb busy. Even I noticed an enchantingly lovely reflection in the mirror, after she had worked her magic on my unruly frizz.

Her nimble fingers teased and persuaded the bride's lovely dark locks into a fascinating and alluring style, and the groom's thirteen year old, Fay, from his previous marriage, became a princess disguised as a blue-eyed bridesmaid.

The wedding was held in a flower-bedecked hall, three neighbor ladies sang beautifully to guitar accompaniment, both before and after the service, which was performed by a lady Justice of the Peace.

After a time of family picture taking, visiting and such, everyone went over to the other hall nearby, where a super buffet supper was arranged--and one thing we can always expect when we visit this BC seaside town, populated as it is with numerous fishermen, is a good feed of salmon (and other goodies too numerous to mention). But the salmon was there, in all its glory, tasting just as delicious as I remembered from my last trip.

There were toasts. There were speeches (not too long), and the usual glass-banging, and after all were fed and toasted sufficiently, there was music and dancing. Of course I danced. Do you think I went all that way for nothing? Admittedly, I couldn't stick with it as long and as strenuously as the youngsters did--but very nice to 'shake a leg' again, in memory of my dance-mad youth. I had partners, too, but one really doesn't need one, as the dancing is mostly done 'on your own,' far from the person who asked you to dance.

I tottered off to my sister's house and bed, long before the rest of the party collapsed, tired enough to sleep well.

We went off together to Guy and Betty's house (did I say the bride's name is Betty?) the next day, for the gift opening and lunch. Amidst the fun and food, we were saying goodbye to some family members, and wondering if the happy couple will find time to use all the goblets, etc., which now overflowed the living room. They were off for Victoria and a honeymoon the following day.

On one day in that week I was there, we went to the store, shopped and looked. We went to the museum, filled with paintings and drawings by local artists (I bought a small print), and admired the bird and other wildlife artwork. From the house, we watched the gulls, and the water and the sunsets. We talked, and talked some more. We took pictures.

On another day, we went down to the small cemetery, where my sister Grace lies, a green, tree-surrounded plot, and there her stone, with flowers. She loved that little isle, and I hope she is lulled by the breakers just below, along the ageless beach...

My day came to go, and Linnea, returning home also, took me to the airport in Port Hardy, stopping briefly along a shore, with pounding surf and soaring gulls. The plane looked impossibly tiny, to brave the gale and clouds to Vancouver, but it had no trouble, and we came down through the clouds to find Vancouver wet and shiny, just as I had left it. I leave the island with regret, wondering if I'll see it again.

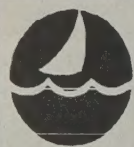

Dennis came along presently and took me to his lovely home on the Port Moody mountain, the side streets on this October day bright with scarlet maple leaves, small trees, newly planted, in his area, which is also new.

Lynda, Dennis' wife, had just started a new job, which she feels will be challenging, and just welcomed home their son, Scott, from a few months in Australia. I admired his "Crocodile Dundee" leather hat, and noticed a bit of "G'd Dy" accent from his months 'down under.'

He declared it was time well spent--the next move being to get a job and go off on another jaunt. Oh, to be young!

The next day I spent a few hours with my granddaughter Angela, and her three teenies, noting all are well and growing. Later Dennis, his son Clay, and I went to dinner, and there was talk of Clay's planned summer in Europe, coming up after New Year's. That will be the making of some memories, I'm sure.

It was rather surprising, the next day, to burst into the sunshine over Calgary, after so many cloud-laden days. But snow on the ground, the following day, when my bus got me home. Ah, well, we in Alberta EXPECT winter; it comes as no surprise. Some of us are even ready for it.

A Dr. Miller in Elk Point again

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point

Having a Dr. Miller in Elk Point may not seem like news to most of you - after all, there has been one or more for most of our living memories. The name, F. G. Miller High School is before us, any time we look at or think of the halls of learning. So to have Dr. K. C. Miller practicing in the Town seems like a return to normal for many.

Dr. K. C. Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Miller, makes his home now in Marwayne, where he has practiced for some years, using Vermilion Hospital for his patients as required. This he still carries on, with office hours in the afternoons, most days.

But now he adds office hours in the forenoons, four days a week, from the former home of his parents, in Elk Point. Dr. K. C. Miller has applied for hospital privileges in the Elk Point Municipal Hospital, this decision is pending.

Elk Point, having lost one doctor, has-or will have soon-the services of four doctors. This will surely let our minds rest easier.

Dr. Miller is not an unknown face in town, nor has he been, returning as he has annually to present an award to the Top Grade 12 Diploma Student, on Awards Night at the F. G. Miller High.

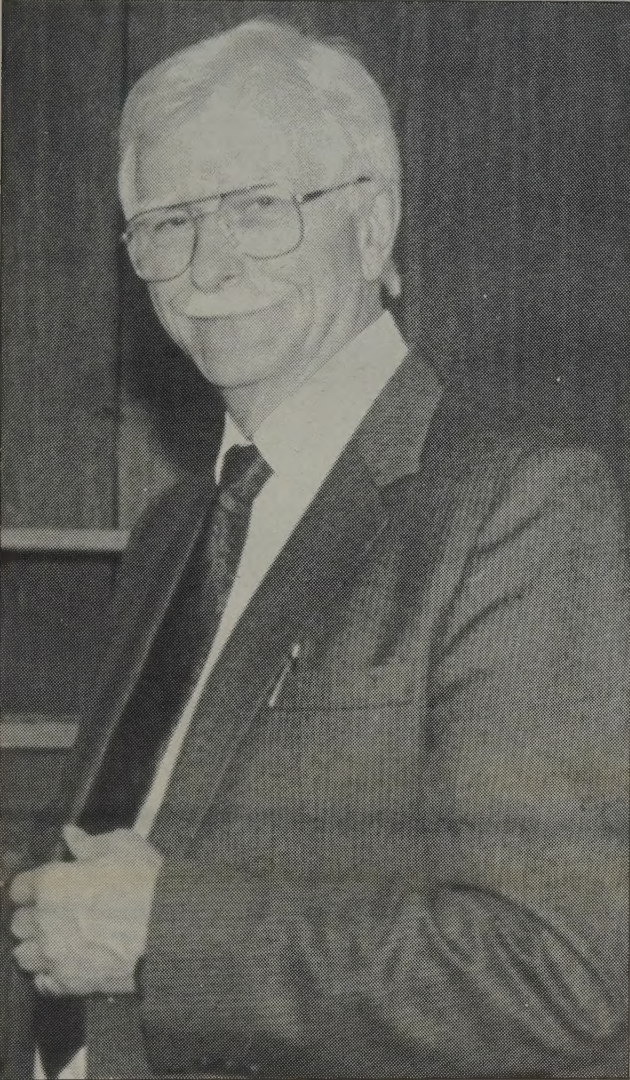

The old Dr. Miller home, where Dr. K. C. has his offices, is an Elk Point landmark, and was rather a mansion among Elk Point residences when new. It still has considerable dignity, nestling behind the trees.

Dr. F. G. Miller came to Elk Point in 1920, with his wife, who was a nurse. There he proceeded to care for the health of Elk Pointites and those in the surrounding area, and to raise future doctors, Dr. K. C. Miller being one of them. (source, Reflections, A History Of Elk Point and District).

Dr. K. C. Miller, whose recreational activities still include curling, hunting, golf, says he "doesn't mind driving," and feels the 90 miles or so round trip from his home in Marwayne to Elk Point will not be unduly tiring, and should present "no problem." This road is, after all, much different than when his father drove it, by team, in the 1920s.

Dr. Miller feels he will be better able to serve his Elk Point and area patients, many of whom have traveled to his office in Marwayne, with a local clinic. "It's nice to be back," Dr. Miller says, with nostalgic feelings re: the old home where he was raised, as well as renewing old acquaintances. Nice to have you, too.

Dr. K. C. Miller...

...back in Elk Point after several years' absence.

SENSIBLE APPROACH

Alberta's forest industry is on the move and logging trucks are now a common sight on many of our roads.

Logging trucks carry heavy loads, so it's not easy to stop or turn these trucks in a hurry. And, because of their greater length, they make a much larger sweep when they turn.

For safety's sake, please watch out for logging route signs, rear load streamers and logging truck lights. Approach these vehicles with caution - never pass on narrow roads and never, never follow too close.

Take the sensible approach. Give logging trucks the room and respect they need.

PARTICIPATION

Pow wow a success despite power failure

Bridget Montgomery

Elk Point

Despite a brief power failure just as the dancers made their grand entrance, the Mini Pow Wow on November 16 at the Frog Lake School was a great success.

The talented dancers performed to the mystical rhythms of the traditional native drummers and singers. The costumes were spectacular in color and detail, displaying intricate bead work, hundreds of tiny bells and magnificent headdresses.

It was a pleasure to have been a guest at the Frog Lake School Culture Day.

CCCBS

The Elk Point Community Cultural Centre Building Society met on November 22 to discuss the components that will be included in the proposed new Community Services Building. Many groups were represented at the meeting and much information was presented about what the community should have in the proposed new building.

The members agreed that the next step is to select an architect to prepare a concept design of a facility including the identified components of the new building. The Society will be interviewing architects on December 5, 1990 and will be making their selection that evening.

The members also agreed that it is important to proceed as quickly as practical with each phase of the design and construction of the proposed facility to take advantage of available grants and to maintain the momentum necessary to finish this important project.

Local student encounters Canada

Gayle Fakeley, a Grade 12 student at F. G. Miller High School, recently returned from a trip to the nation's capital, where she attended Encounters With Canada. Her trip was sponsored by the County of St. Paul, after she was fortunate enough to be one of those chosen from among many applicants.

Miss Fakeley travelled from Edmonton to Ottawa by plane for the conference, which started November 11 at the Terry Fox Centre. A total of 148 students and monitors representing all 10 provinces took part.

The week's activities included visits to the Senate and the Supreme Court, attendance at the House of Commons Question Period and a tour of the National Art Gallery, as well as a variety of workshops, presentations and films. Many speakers were involved, including an actor, a dancer, a Liberal Member of Parliament and some of the House of Commons pages.

Miss Fakeley returned home after her week in the east with a new understanding of the government process, having seen for herself democracy in action.

GST comes to EP, AB

Irene Magnusson

Elk Point

We must have known the Goods and Services Tax would indeed come to Elk Point, AB, sooner or later, so the session offered by accountant Allen J. Warawa, on November 15, should have come as no surprise, especially as it was well advertised.

The crowd gathered at the Community Services building (old junior high school) was the largest I've seen (not at a bingo) in some time. Farmers and business persons, for the most part, a few seniors who may still be in business of one sort or another, and a lot of persons who "wanted to know."

Mr. Warawa, armed with booklets and leaflets, and a good deal of information, went into the 'hows' and 'whens' of the manner in which the proposed GST will effect transactions when it becomes law.

There is a choice each person must make, as to whether he or she will register for the new legislation. The criteria for compulsory registration is when one sells more than $ 30,000 worth of goods or services, of a taxable variety, then registration becomes compulsory. If less than $ 30,000, there is a choice, to be decided by each individual, as to whether she or he will register or not.

Regardless, Warawa pointed out, whether one collects the GST from customers, one is required to pay the GST to the Revenue Department.

All basic foodstuffs are exempt, and non-taxable, other exempt goods include drugs and medical devices, most farm livestock (those used for food, fresh fish and seafood, and exports. These articles were listed in the literature Warawa handed out.

The audience was, in the main, quiet and receptive as Warawa tried to make the intricacies of the new tax law clear, throwing in an occasional jibe at government tendency to make rules complicated and difficult for the ordinary person to understand, causing welcome laughter now and then.

Various benefits accrue, to small business persons, by registering early: these include "Input Tax Credits, FST refund, Small Business Credit (which includes possible entitlement to a $ 1000 refund credit, to ease the changeover). Also, having a registration number makes sure your payments are credited. It seems a worthwhile effort, to learn all possible quirks of this new method of taxation.

This information is available several ways, Warawa stated: the long distance toll-free number for Alberta is 1-800-661-3498. Or, one may write to "Revenue Canada, Excise, PO Box 1717, Station 'M', Calgary, AB, T2P 4K4."

A few other exempt items, on which one is NOT required to pay GST, are: 'true' gifts, home rental, sale of home, airfare. These may be 'adjusted' later on, one must keep alert to changes. Also presently exempt are gambling winnings, and legal aid, also financial costs (as at banks); again, this may be changed. Most farm machinery is also exempt from GST, but not all.

The question period, following the presentation, was brisk, War-awa answering many queries. A coffee break was appreciated, and as all participants entered a draw, this was made, with Elsie Zarowny declared the winner, the award being a year-end Income Tax accounting job, free by Warawa Accounting.

Mr. Warawa is to be congratulated on attempting to explain this very complicated new legislation. He has done his part; now, if we can just do ours, and understand it...

Further Education news

Gladys Drobot

Coordinator

Many thanks to all those who participated in our Crafty Visions Open House, whether you brought in a display or just came to see what was happening. We hope you got lots of good ideas for the future.

Our pre-Christmas courses are starting to wind down. Oil Painting will be completed on December 13, Senior Fun and Fitness on December 17 and 19. A Heart Saver course for 54 people will be completed on November 30. Last Saturday, November 24, saw 12 very busy ladies taking Creative Crafts With Evelyn, while last night, November 26, was our one evening course on Creative Gift Wrapping with Verona Lea Flanders. The Farm Shelterbelt course could have used a few more people but we know we can count on farmers to show up. It goes at the Further Education Centre from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. TONIGHT, November 27.

Today is also the first day of the PETAL PORCELAIN in Lindbergh. Ten ladies got together, decided they wanted the course, and called. That's all it takes. Thanks, ladies. Their instructor is Marie Zayac and the course will be held at the home of Rodah Lorenson. The course is full but if you are interested we may be able to get Marie to do another one.

INFANT / CHILD FIRST AID AND CPR will go on December 4, 6,

10 and 11 at the F. G. Miller High School Cafeteria from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. The course is full, but if you are interested, let me know and we will try to get another one going. Remember, if you want a course of any kind, don't tell your neighbor, tell ME.

Thursday, December 13 will see a 3-hour PADDED BASKET (ice cream pail) course at the F. G. Miller Home Ec Room from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. A 1 hour orientation will take place on December 5 from 8:00 to 9:00 at the home of the instructor, Barb Croteau (5126-58 Ave.). Cost of the course is $ 5 plus materials. This course has come up very suddenly so please register immediately.

Ideas for after Christmas are needed desperately and immediately. We are working on the calendars already. If your ideas are late, they do NOT get into the calendar and that is not my fault. Watch the newspapers, community TV and posters for any other upcoming courses. If you want a course to go before Christmas, get the 8 people and I'll do the rest.

To register for courses, please deliver your cheque to the office on Tuesdays or Thursdays between 1:00 and 7:00 p.m. or on Wednesdays between 1:00 and 5:00 p.m. or send it to the Elk Point and District Further Education Council, Box 728, Elk Point, Alberta, T0A 1A0. For information, please phone 724-4101.

Lioness Environment Tip

Getting more from tires

Experts estimate that you can get 40 percent more miles from tires if the proper air pressure is maintained at all times and if the tires are rotated regularly on the vehicle.

Tires can see more miles too after they can't be used safely on a vehicle. Tires make great swings and unique playground equipment. They also can be painted and used as planters for flowers and vegetables.

That's great mileage!

More planning for Pioneer Circle

Irene Magnusson

Elk Point

A special meeting called for the general membership of the Elk Point Seniors' group, the Pioneer Circle, received a 'full house' of over fifty members, quietly anxious for the news—or lack of news—regarding the ongoing hope of a new facility for the club.

A further request from the Community Cultural Centre Building Society as to the Pioneer Circle's plans or decision of joining that group's proposed new recreation centre complex, was the chief reason for the meeting.

A reply to the request for a definite decision from Town Council, of the possibility of purchasing the land where the present drop-in centre is located or of obtaining a long-term lease, was read, but did not give the definite information the group sought.

The Pioneer Circle has recently hired a consultant, Leonard Bobyn, to help with their plans. It seems to be very important that the group either owns the land outright or has a long term lease, before definite plans may be proceeded with. This seems to need clarification.

A committee was formed to meet with Town Council and / or the Community Cultural Centre Building Society. These are John Williams, Sid Holthe and Phyllis Zarowny. They will report back to the next meeting.

On motion, the Building Committee was dissolved, as they have served their purpose and are no longer required.

Permission was granted from the members, for the new committee to use the present agreement with the Town, re: the land in question, when discussing the matter. This agreement was signed in 1977.

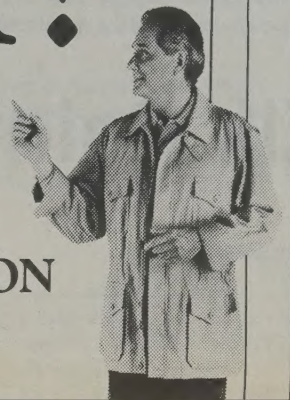

It was learned that Dennis Moreau, from New Horizons, will be in Elk Point and can meet with the Seniors on Tuesday, November 27, at 1:00 p.m. All members are requested to attend this important meeting, in the drop-in centre.

This short, but important meeting adjourned at 3:00 p.m.

GST?

THIS WEEK
YOU ASKED
THE GST
OFFICE.

Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?

A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.

Q: My son has figured out it will cost $500 in lumber to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber cost with the proposed GST?

A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.

Q: I know the proposed GST won't apply to city bus fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?

A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

We're here to answer your questions about how the GST will affect prices. Call us toll-free Monday to Friday 9am-9pm. Ask for your free copy of the "Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices."

The answer is to call

Elk Point Oillettes news

Faye Sommerville
Oillettes

The Elk Point Oillettes had a comedy night on Saturday, November 10, featuring "Sir Unicorn". This included supper catered by the Elk Point OORP and a two act comedy performed by three people from Edmonton. We want to thank everyone for supporting us and we hope fun was had by all. We would also like to give a big thank you to the Elk Point Oilmen's Association for running the bar and providing waiters. This was a new venture for us and Imogene Kostura, Desiree Maas and Sandra Veenstra did an excellent job with the organization of our evening.

Our next function will be a Mini Market on Saturday, December 8, held in the Empress Banquet Room from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Products for sale will include Totally Tropical silk plants, Avon, UnderCover Wear, Aloette, Tops'n'Trends, Swipe Cleaner, Active Wear, Regal, jewellery and professional hair care products. Many specials and clearance items will be displayed. Everyone is welcome.

We are a social club for women associated with the oil industry. Our meetings, the first Thursday of every month, consist of the meeting, supper (usually at the Empress Restaurant) and then a guest speaker or craft. Occasionally we have gone swimming, bowling, to a movie or for supper to St. Paul.

Anything practical is considered and possible, and we are always open to new suggestions. Our social events have included Christmas parties, curling bonspiels, casino night and a car rally.

Our present executive is: President-Diane Huffman; Vice President- Darlene Arndt; Treasurer-Imogene Kostura; Secretary--

Christine Uttley; Historian and Publicity-Sonia Yarmuch; Entertainment-Michelle Zarowny; Phoning-Carolina Mayner; Directors: Desiree Maas, Sandra Veenstra and Kathy Ockerman; Reservations-Genny Glover.

Smoking reduces life expectancy

Teaching kids to read can stop them smoking.

Reading has always been a first stepping stone in the development of young lives. And never more so than now. Getting kids to read, and UNDERSTAND, cigarette package health warnings should be an important part of the overall message you give them regarding the hazards of drugs and addiction. Don't take it for granted that they automatically understand the dangers of smoking, or that they know tobacco is a highly addictive drug.

Kids ultimately make their own decisions, but this is one more way you can help tip the scales.

Choir Christmas concert

Forty three singers, under the direction of Don Buryn and accompanied by Deanna Easthope, will give their first Christmas Concert for the public on Wednesday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Elk Point Elementary School gym.

Formed in February of 1990, this fall the choir has grown and been enriched with members from Heinsburg, Lindbergh, Lafond, St. Paul and Bonnyville joining our local vocalists. It has indeed become a community choir, encompassing all ages. Not only have their voices melded together in unison, but the purchase of choir blazers has completed their professional appearance.

Prior to their local Christmas performance, the Elk Point Community Choir will travel to Bonnyville on December 6. They will be part of approximately 8 choirs presenting "A Community Choir Christmas Concert."

In return, the Bonnyville Society Singers have been invited to be special guests at our Elk Point Christmas Concert.

So, for an evening of musical entertainment, the Elk Point Community Choir invites everyone to attend their Christmas presentation. The Choir members hope to see you there.

Capitols winning ways continue

Pat Vincent
Minor Hockey

On the strength of an impressive offensive onslaught, tight checking defense and stingy goaltending, the Elk Point IDA Capitols continue their winning ways in Highway 28 East Minor Hockey, Atom Division league play on November 17.

The Capitols upped their season record to 3-0, keeping their record unblemished with a 12-2 romp over their opposition from Bonnyville.

Five first period goals, two of those scored while being short-handed, a single second frame tally, and six unanswered third period goals accounted for a bushel basket full of scoring that the Capitols managed to get past Bonnyville goaltending.

After having taken a 3-0 lead, the Capitols relinquished a goal to the opposition, reducing their margin to two goals, still a relatively close game by minor hockey standards. Two more goals by the home side responded to by a single marker by the opposition left the Capitols with a 5-2 first period lead.

The Capitols managed to find the twine only a single time in the second period, which did prove to be Bonnyville's best-played period of the game.

However, shutout goaltending from the 21:20 mark of the first period onward, by goaltender Darren Watson, and a six goal outburst, sunk the visitors by a 12-2 final count.

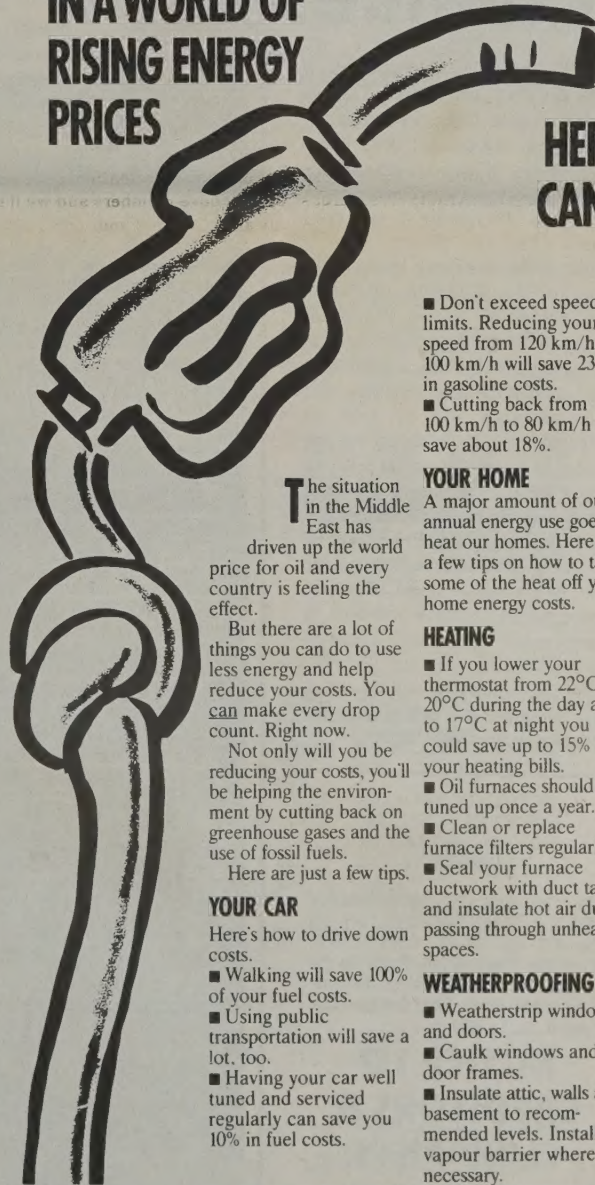

Eight Capitols figured in scoring statistics, led by Ferlin Quinney who scored four times and added three assists for a seven point outing. The other marksmen and point-getters were Conway Roscoe with two goals and three assists, Ryan Stone with two goals, Keith Faithful with a goal and an assist, John Quinney with one goal, Matthew Vincent with two goals and an assist, and Kelly Petersen and Bradley Pankiw, each with two assists.

The Capitols were assessed four of the six minor penalties in the game by referee Norman Quinney.

The Capitols next league action is November 24 when they travel to Glendon for one of the only three-away games with which the league schedulers have favoured the team during regular season play.

Glendon may prove to be the Capitols stiffest competition to date. In an earlier season matchup Glendon bested the Elk Point Raiders by a score of 6 to 2.

IN A WORLD OF RISING ENERGY PRICES

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN MAKE EVERY DROP COUNT.

■ Don't exceed speed limits. Reducing your speed from 120 km/h to 100 km/h will save 23% in gasoline costs.
■ Cutting back from 100 km/h to 80 km/h will save about 18%.

YOUR HOME

A major amount of our annual energy use goes to heat our homes. Here are a few tips on how to take some of the heat off your home energy costs.

HEATING

■ If you lower your thermostat from 22°C to 20°C during the day and to 17°C at night you could save up to 15% on your heating bills.

■ Oil furnaces should be tuned up once a year.

■ Clean or replace furnace filters regularly.

■ Seal your furnace ductwork with duct tape and insulate hot air ducts passing through unheated spaces.

WEATHERPROOFING

■ Weatherstrip windows and doors.

■ Caulk windows and door frames.

■ Insulate attic, walls and basement to recommended levels. Install a vapour barrier where necessary.

YOUR WORLD

Just about every piece of plastic that you use is derived from a fossil fuel. The production of paper, metal and glass uses enormous amounts of energy. So the 3R's of environmental protection are vital as well. Reduce your energy needs whenever you can. Reuse bags, containers, bottles and wrappings when possible. Your community probably has local recycling programs in which you can get involved.

Blues rally to salvage tie

Pat Vincent
Minor Hockey

The Byers Transport Blues remained undefeated in the 1990 Hi Way 28 East division league action, playing to a 6-6 draw with the St. Paul (1) team on November 17.

In a wildly exciting finish to the game, the Blues scored twice late in the third period, the tying goal coming in the final minute of play, off the stick of Brett Kopeck, with the goaltender sitting on the player's bench in favour of the extra forward.

St. Paul (1) built up a 5-2 second period lead taking advantage of their numerous scoring opportunities to paint a bleak picture for the Blues to face, coming to centre ice for the drop of the puck to start the third and final period.

However, an unintended goaltender change, and remarkable line juggling by the harried coaching staff, breathed a new life into a demoralized squad. A goal early in the period by Brett Kopeck brought the Blues within two goals of the opposition. Just when things started taking on a brighter outlook, St. Paul (1) got credited with their sixth goal of the game. One which, unfortunately, went in to the net off the skates of the goaltender in an attempt to smother the puck and stop the play.

But the never say quit Blues took one step toward a comeback when Darcy Stafford scored his second goal of the game to narrow the deficit, again to a two goal differential. Then with just under two minutes remaining, with the Blues swarming all over St. Paul (1), Ben Matthews found the range, reducing the deficit to only one goal. The comeback was now within grasp.

Trailing 6-5, with less than a minute to play, the goaltender on the bench, and the Blues completely dominating the play, Brett Kopeck, with his second goal of the game, dawned the mantle as hero of the hour, sliding the puck past a fallen St. Paul (1) puck stopper to knot the score, completing a remarkable comeback with an unbelievable final minute rally. With another two or three minutes of play it might have been...then again, we'll never know, will we?

Nathan Matthews was the other goal scorer for the Blues, that coming in the second period. Ryan Peterson and Jordan Bassett earned single assists on Blues scoring, while Ben Matthews had two assists and Nathan Matthews added a single helper.

The Blues season record as a result of Saturday's game is now two wins, one tie, against no losses after three games. The Blues put their undefeated record on the line when they face St. Paul (2) at the Polaris Arena in St. Paul on November 24, in their first road game of the 1990 minor hockey season.

NEARTA meeting

Irene Melin
Elk Point

On Tuesday, November 20, 48 members of the North East Alberta Retired Teachers Association met for a tasty noon meal of Chinese food at the Glendon Community Cafe. The business meeting, which followed, was chaired by Vice President Helen Luchkanych.

There was a report from the Annual General Meeting held in October. A committee, headed by Margaret Modin, is gathering information about a possible tour for next May. After the meeting, the group went to the Seniors' Centre and enjoyed Christmas carols, socializing, coffee and goodies provided by the Glendon members.

ORR, Clayton

In loving memory of our beloved son, brother and grandson, Clayton Orr who passed away suddenly on November 30, 1986.

Our family chain is broken
Nothing ever seems the same
But God calls us one by one
A chain will link again.

We pray to God in heaven
To take this message up above
And tell Clayton how much we miss him
And that we love him very much.

Clayton, even though you and your big voice may have moved on, we will remember you forever.

Always loved; Mom, Dad, Brother
Jeffrey, Grandma and Grandpa Goz-jolko and Grandma and Grandpa Orr.

Patients Enjoy Two- and Four-Legged Visitors

Extended care patients at Elk Point Municipal Hospital recently enjoyed two groups of visitors in one day. Hughie Krucik and Louise Kurash brought their four footed friends for one of their periodic visits, while Mrs. Lindquist and her Grade 7 Home Ec class came over from F. G. Miller High School with gifts of soft sculptures for the patients. The students told the patients that they will be back one day soon to take any long term patients who are able to go, out for a pre-Christmas lunch.

Pulpit perspectives

Pastor Jim answers your questions from a Biblical viewpoint. We reserve the right to select and edit published letters. Send your question to: Box 298, Elk Point, Alberta, T0A 1A0.

Dear Pastor: I heard a minister say recently that God would even forgive serial killers and child molesters. I can't believe that. If God is fair ... how can He forgive people like that?

Dear Friend: this word in the English, forgiveness, is probably one of the hardest concepts to understand. The first thing that should be understood is that God will not JUST wipe away sin. If you understand that Truth, perhaps the others will follow. In fact, you have to understand that GOD ALWAYS PUNISHES SIN.

Forgiveness results when the punishment has been delivered. Let us presume you broke your neighbors window ... by accident! When you ask him to forgive you; and he does ... he is really saying, "I'll absorb the damages, myself".

Jesus, God's Son, took the death penalty for sin. Because He was perfect Himself; and eternal, His act of taking our place is also perfect and eternal.

Anyone who refuses to believe in Christ, will have to assume their own punishment for sin. But if we place our trust in Jesus, then His action on our behalf stands acceptable to God. So, in essence, it is a fair thing for God to forgive a sinner who has trusted His Son, because His Son has taken the punishment for those sins.

God says in the Bible, "I am He who blots out your transgression, for my own sake, and remembers your sins no more."

Now let's add to the story with your neighbor. Say your neighbor says, "To prove to you that I've forgiven you, I'll bury the broken pieces in the ground." We would all think you're foolish to dig them up the next day; and again come to him asking forgiveness.

So it is with God! If you trust Jesus as the Savior of your sins, He not only forgives ... but forgets! Once your sins are forgiven ... you needn't "dig them up again!" This includes the most grotesque of sins.

The death penalty that Jesus took for us covers all sin but one. IF YOU REJECT HIM AS SAVIOR, NOTHING ELSE CAN FORGIVE YOU.
